Florida Cabbage Now Get Entrance To Canada Marts

Big Demand For Sweet Corn Develops. Vegetable Movement Heavy

Florida growers of cabbage should be some what benefited as the result of an act of the Canadian Government in removing the barrier against United States grown cabbage. The government however, does retain controls so far as fixing the wholesale rates. The sweet cabbage took a big jump in demand of the past week, and prices likewise shot up, too, so that the cabbage operators are happy. Other green goods continue steady in demand and at prices which have held during most of the season. The sweet corn deal also continues to be favorable along all lines.

Now that the truckers seemed to have captured about 70 percent of the vegetable movement, the rail systems are beginning to show signs of fighting back. Several railroads have petitioned the ICC to be permitted to lower their freight rates on such commodities. Steps are being taken to secure tighter truck relations, by means of new legislation, through the state legislatures.

The spring crop over in the Pompano region has passed its peak, as out shipments by rails, showed a big decline during the past week. Potato shipments are now flowing freely from the Dade county areas.

Florida State market reports cite that 4,695,000 crates of winter celery will be shipped out of the state, about 23 percent less than the same period in 1948. Around 3500 acres of spring celery have been planted for late season harvesting.

James L. Gay, of the American Fruit company, who has been hospitalized for some time with eye trouble, is again able to be back on his job at the company's local office.

More than 35,000 people patronized the Palm Beach County Fair last week.

Ruby Kirk has announced that the next time she will be in the Club, due to the wonderful financial success of the recent dinner-dance, and another affair is being planned. Excellent work by chairman

"SOCIAL ELEC" OF BULLDOGM HONORED

The Everglades Experiment Station has "taken the bull by the horns" and honored two outstanding friends of the Glades—Nathan Mayo and J. Hillis Miller.

Nathan Mayo has long been a Glades booster in the top brackets of the State Administration. A prize registered bull yearling born at the Station was christened "Everglades Nathan", and is now about reaching maturity. Dr. J. Hillis Miller, President of the University spent Thursday night and Friday in the Glades absorbing the first time information about this great agricultural area where one of his Experiment Stations is a function.

A full brother of Everglades Nathan was ready for christening, so he was given the name of Everglades Hillis. Periodically, the bulls will be weighed and judged and a prize will be sent to the Godfather of the winner.

Each of the gentlemen heartily agreed to this proposition, and it is expected that friendly rivalry over the two native Glades Sires will result.

Dwight Rogers Appreciative Of Question Replays

Several thousand constituents of the Sixth Congressional district, which is represented in Washington by Congressman Dwight L. Rogers, who took enough interest to answer and send in questionnaire replies, have a better knowledge of the Congressman.

Mr. Rogers in a form letter comments on the matter as follows: "It is a good sign when we can get our people to study and think upon legislation and then express themselves. After all YOU are the GOVERNMENT and you should have an opportunity to help solve our governmental problems, that we will have a better Government. In difference and failure to express our views show a lack of interest in this great Democracy of ours. An aroused public opinion is the foundation upon which good Government is built."

As your Congressman, deeply appreciate your opinions and views expressed in your answers to the questionnaire. Usually we hear from pressure groups who are interested in legislation beneficial to them but we do not hear from folks like you, who are also interested in this great nation of ours and in the welfare of our people.

I am well pleased with the response that I have received and the interest that has been shown in the problems now pending in the Congress. Please feel free to write me at any time on any legislation you think is good for our people."

GULFSTREAM COACHES ENTERTAINED HERE

For the first time, coaches and assistants of the Gulfstream Council will meet in Belle Glade, tomorrow the 18th, as guests of Coach Cook and his assistants, and the "B" Club.

South Bay is being solicited by members of the Junior High students and Lake Harbor, under Mrs. Melvin Wilder, while Mrs. E. M. VanLandingham, and Rev. Leonard Vandewater made up the local team.

Chmic Tuesday On Proposed Laws Next Legislature

Many Proposed Laws Will Be Given Public Hearing As To Value

Citizens from all parts of Palm Beach County are invited to confer with local members of the legislature regarding proposed local bills and those affecting the county at the County Commission Room, 10 o'clock, March 32nd, according to Frank Fraker, Jr., Chairman of the Palm Beach County Resources Development Board Legislative Committee.

Those wishing to present bills or outline bills to be introduced in the legislature affecting Palm Beach County or its subdivisions will be heard. All political subdivisions of the County legislation are urged to bring their bills to this second biennial clinic conducted under the sponsorship of RBD.

It is restorable to have bills to be presented drafted and in form but where this is impossible, sponsors are urged to be prepared to clearly outline provisions of bills to be presented. The purpose of this clinic is to save time of our legislators when the session convenes April 4th, at Tallahassee.

The one hand and equally important to give our voters the opportunity of expressing their views to Senator Beacham and Continued on page 4

Can Now Drive Around Perimeter of Lake Okeechobee by Motor

It has been a long time dream, and years of frustration, but now, if one wants to be careful in making the trip, an auto can circumscribe the entire rim of lake Okeechobee, as highway improvements have made it possible. Starting from Moore Haven you can go to Lakeland, then to the Indian River, and thence northeastward south of the Brighton Reservoir into the junction with Highway 15, three miles south of Okeechobee.

From there you follow 15 and 27 back around the west and south side of the lake to the point of starting.

For the first time, coaches and assistants of the Gulfstream Council will meet in Belle Glade, tomorrow the 18th, as guests of Coach Cook and his assistants, and the "B" Club.

Women Club Will Paint Club House

"The Future of the Everglades" was an intensive talk given by H. L. Spear, assistant county agent, before the Women's Club, Wednesday afternoon. He reviewed the history of the Everglades and explained how we would be benefited by the reclamation of its material.

Beginning at Ft. Lauderdale last fall, on an invitation from that Club, the Elks of Florida decided to bloom out with a full grown Elks tournament with final arrangements being made at Belle Glade some weeks ago when the second play was effected at the local course.

After playing on the heavily traveled course of the Belle Glade golf course—and there is no better nine hole course in Florida at present—Glades boys were in the money at Ft. Lauderdale in the Elks tournament, Sunday, despite the sands and a high wind.

Rogers Circus To Arrive In Town Early Saturday

If there are some vacant beds and missing kids at home in Belle Glade, Saturday morning, parents need not become apprehensive, for by their dollars do the kids are down at the circus, for carrying water in a circus dressing room and spent my babyhood in a wardrobe trunk. Grandfather and grandmother flew through the air with the greatest ease and "Mother" were tight. The little artist presents her "Aerial Fantasy" high in the top of the tent without the aid of nets or any other safety devices.

The 3-ring show is sponsored by the Lions Club for benefit of swimming pool.

Friends Of Flood Control Assigned To Lead Positions

The proposed Flood and Water Control project proposed by the Federal Government is likely of more importance to Palm Beach county, than any of the other counties in the range of the proposed improvements. At least the county is going to be a large benefactor in the way of protection, and for cattle, crops and other ways.

With the fund raising question foremost in the minds of the members of the State Legislature, members of the Board of County Commissioners, and citizens, it is well to have friends go to bat for the project, and it seems that this county is well fortified with such support.

At a result of committee chairmanship of the legislature, Palm Beach has fared well, for (Continued on page 4)

OBSERVATION and Comment By John M. Gladhill

The Pennsylvania hotel at Sebring has recently been purchased by Mrs. Sally Kintzler, who proposes to rebuild it into one of the finest small hotels in central Florida. The property is owned by the Sebring Club. Many Glades people have stopped at the hotel in the years past and found comfortable accommodations.

Heavy fog surely saved us from a costly frost on last Saturday morning. Had a frost got our crops at this stage, the loss would have been very heavy. Over in St. Lucie county the tomato crop got a nipping.

The host of business and personal friends of Homer Clause, of Pahokee, prominent farmer and packing house operator, are happy that he will recover from injuries received in a automobile collision last week. Clause is one of the prominent members of the Glades Branch of the Vegetable Distributors' League, and a man well informed in farming and traffic regulations.

Martin county farmers have entered into an expanded program for the raising of sweet potatoes, for prominent farmers for growers in north Florida and Georgia. The Seegreave Packing company in Indian River is installing machinery at its packing house for the washing, grading and waxing sweet potatoes, which are grown on about 500 acres in the Indian River section.

FIRE CONTROL LAW HAS REAL TEETH FOR ENFORCEMENT

Under a declaration of fire as a "common enemy" by the State Legislature has passed a law that has real teeth in it. It's unlawful to "set and start fires", owners of tenants or other occupants, responsible for the existence of fires and must "eliminate and extinguish" them from any cause whether of their own act or from other sources; or to allow to accumulate any brush, trash, or other inflammable material within 100 feet of any highway, road, or canal.

When you get a permit from the Fire Control Board it does not relieve any person for damages which may result from carelessness or neglect, in setting, starting, looking after or guarding the fires. Even if the Chief orders you to burn, which he is empowered to do, you're still not relieved of any of this.

If you get the point, now that we are all dry it behooves everyone to cooperate, under the penalty of this law, which is $1000 fine or imprisonment (Continued on page Nine)

FLORIDA CABBAGE

By position, last week, and the Glades exhibit proved to be one of the banner ones of the collection. Thousands of interested people gathered around the display to gain information of our great farming area and the produce raised in the Glades.

Miami people are more favored than some of the other east coast cities so far as obtaining fresh vegetables are concerned, for hundreds of trucks haul Everglades grown produce into that market each week.

Getting a taste and hankering for our "greens" increased demands should come from the north.

CLINIC TODAY

Representative Elliott and Bollinger," according to Chairman Frazier.

President A. E. Kirchman of RDB stated that he not only had requests from our legislative delegation for a clinic similar to the one held two years ago but the Board of Directors feel the people should have an opportunity to know about bills which may become a law and directly affect the county or their local area without the necessity of spending time and money going to the State Capital during the hectic six-day session when our overworked delegation can devote only a minimum of time and thought to any one proposed law.

FRIENDS OF FLOOD

In the Senate, John Beachman, has been made chairman of the Flood Conservation committee, and Representative B. Elliott, chairman of a like committee in the House. These two men are bolstered by John Bollinger, our second representative, who is a strong supporter of the plan.

Our County Commissioners are backing the project wholeheartedly, and then in addition we have the RDB and the Everglades Drainage District forces with like support.

In discussion of tax resources for the big project, the County Commissioners, Senator Beachman, again endorsed the plan for placing a tax on fuel oil and kerosene, claiming that income from that source would be sufficient to meet the state demands on the $208,000,000.00 project. This suggestion is being studied and will likely be presented to the Legislature next month, as a possible source of revenue.

The program to be presented in the three ring circus, will be of a type common to large and small circuses, and reports it that this particular show has a bunch of fine artists for the ring and air spectacles.

The menagerie show has both animal and specialty fresh displays. One attraction is the elephant "Shirley Temple" which the children of the nation purchased with dime donations, to present to the then young film star. This animal was obtained by the Rogers circus by a personal gift of the California owner.

The Lions club is sponsoring this show here, and from advance sale of tickets before ten o'clock, Friday night, will come most of the local lake for the swimming pool project. The big tent top will hold a capacity of 2500 people without crowding. The personnel of the show numbers 250 persons.

For the past year the Pahokee C-117 Concession has been watching the installation work of an extended water system and the erection of a large storage tank, and the placement of new fixtures for the power plant and system. The past week the job was accepted from Contractor Ivy J. Smith, of Jacksonville and he was given his last estimate of $30,000. The original waterworks plant was the first one that was erected in the states under CWA grant, but this was soon outgrown, and extensions and new equipment became imperative, so that the present expansions were provided.

Assembly Programs

The Friday afternoon assembly programs continue to live up to the high standards set up at the beginning of the term. With one or two exceptions, all programs have been intellectual as well as entertaining. Two weeks ago the Safety Patrol presented "Dr. I. Q." during assembly. This imitation of the famous radio program was carried out similar to the real program. Pupils who were fortunate in knowing the correct answers were given such useful articles as socks, neckties, handkerchiefs, tooth paste and brushes, pencils etc. Last Friday, in keeping with the season of the year, the Dramatic Club presented "The Lazy March Here".

THEY HELP THOSE WHO HELP THE PUBLIC

Certified Public Accountants, in the discharge of their professional responsibilities to the public, stand at all times ready to serve hospitals, churches and all other community organizations which are dedicated to public welfare and derive a major portion of their operating funds by public subscriptions.

Certified Public Accountants are often able to point out financial pitfalls and suggest remedial action that can mean the difference between the continuation of valuable public services or their abrupt termination. Financial reports prepared by CPAs give the contributing public an intelligible story of the manner in which funds are derived and disbursed.

Hence, the CPA's professional skill and experience make him an important factor in the maintenance of essential community services.

Interested readers are invited to send for the pamphlet "Why CPAs: Standards Are Important to You." Address the Managing Director, P. O. Box 2412, University Station, Gainesville, Florida.

Mary Eleanor Kidder
Is Chimes Ringing

Reprint from Tampa Tribune
(By Rose Allegato)

In the gray dawn or the twilight of dusk, the familiar figures of the "girls behind the bells" can be seen rushing around the Florida Southern College campus.

Mary Eleanor Kidder and Lois Meinicke have become just as well known as the chapel chimes which toll the time of day, for these lively girls perform their duty, come what may.

The chimes signify class changes. In the midst of a discussion of Alexander the Great, or an explanation of how to balance a chemistry formula, the bells will ring out a hymn, which floats over the campus and tells the students to pick up their books and depart for another class.

Not quite as welcome is the hymn that sounds at 6:30 A.M. to announce to coeds that they must crawl out of their beds and start another day.

But the girls who ring the bells have their problems also. Rising at the heart-breaking hour of 6:25 A.M. still clad in pajamas, they wrap their raincoats around them and sleepily make their way to the chapel. The girls consider this their worst "hardship" and especially on Sunday, when, without classes to attend, they could sleep a few hours more. However, Sunday is still considered a holiday. On this day they do not have to ring the first bells until 7:30 A.M.

Only one girl is needed to play the chimes at one time; therefore Mary Eleanor and Lois have worked out a schedule, taking turns.

Mary Eleanor, a freshman, who comes from Belle Glade, is majoring in religion and is attending college on a scholarship. Lois is a junior and is majoring in art and elementary education. She hails from Mount Dora. This is the first year either of the girls has rung the bells.

Lois and Mary Eleanor are known and teased by all their fellow students, but they don't mind and admit it's fun. Often on their way to the chapel they will meet one another and begin chatting. Before they realize it, they have about two minutes in which to make a wild dash across the campus.

The girls themselves choose the hymns or songs to be played with the exception of one "must." The Bells of St. Mary's is traditional at chapel time. In the evening, to initiate the study hour, they will play soft, dreamy tunes such as Moonlight Becomes You.

The girls have missed only one morning, when Mary Eleanor, who was "on duty" returned from tour at 3 A.M. Needless to say, the chimes were silent, for once.

Vacancies Announced In Navy Electronics

The Navy has vacancies for qualified men to enter the Navy electronics technicians school. It was announced here today by CPO Thomas Glaze, local Recruiter.

To qualify, applicant must be between the ages of 17 and a high-school graduate. He must make a high mark on the regular applicants qualification test and then pass an aptitude test for electronics.

Here is a wonderful opportunity for those that are chosen. This course would cost about $5,000.00 in a civilian institution. Selected men will be sent to the Navy Training Station in San Diego, California, for the routine recruit training, then to the Navy school of electronics for 42 weeks training. Those selected for aviation electronics will receive an additional weeks training.

State Commission Names New Chief Game Warden

The State Game and Fresh Water Commission has named a new executive commissioner to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Ben O. Morgan. The choice of the commission is Coleman Newman, who has been connected with the Board as wildlife biologist, and as first assistant to Morgan, in charge of the deer and wild turkey, and hunting ground acquisition department.

Newman for many years prior to coming to Florida, was connected with the Texas state game commission. Newman states that he will follow pretty much the administrative plans as had been formulated by Morgan.

Game Department Possesses New Fish Movement Tank

A new type, self-aerating tank truck designed to transport adult fish from one of Florida to the other, with practically no mortality has been purchased by the State Game and Fresh Water Commission.

Chief Fisheries Biologist John F. Dequigne said today the truck, containing 36 individual stainless steel tanks, is equipped with a continuous circulating water system and is insulated to insure constant temperature in each compartment.

The new $8,000 distribution unit will transport over 360 pounds of fish on a three-day journey in hot weather with no deaths enroute. Dequigne said. The death rate was extremely high in the old fish tank truck which had a 200 pounds maximum carrying capacity and an eight-hour travel time limit.

Essentially the new equipment will be used in fish rescue work—transferring game fish from isolate pot-holes to fresh water lakes and streams in all parts of the state. The truck will be based at Wewahatcha.

Garrison and Davis Secure New Wrecker

A fine new Holmes wrecker car was added to the equipment of Parish and Davis garage this week. It is a heavy duty car, and is dressed with the most modern equipment.
